Dear Client,

Clients often contact us to inquire about the status of their case. While each personal injury or wrongful death case is unique, it generally takes one to four years to reach a settlement or verdict. From the time we accept your case, our experienced attorneys and administrative staff work diligently to bring you justice in the shortest time possible. Since the inception of our practice, we have represented thousands of clients and have developed systemic approaches to prosecute cases in the most efficient manner.

Even though our attorneys handle multiple cases at a time, they are continually working to bring your case to justice. Insurance companies have no incentive to resolve your case and will delay settlement as long as possible. Defense attorneys bill their clients on an hourly basis, so they are financially motivated to prolong cases. In response to their delay tactics, we send specific and detailed discovery requests to opposing attorneys, force them to turn over documents, and compel them to appear in court because we understand you are anxious to resolve your lawsuit.

Information gathering is also a lengthy process. Hospitals, nursing homes, and other entities are often reluctant to release private client records. We have dedicated staff members who are responsible for securing important records. Their attention and persistence allow us to collect the materials and information required to build your case as quickly as possible.

Additionally, our firm uses the latest office and legal technology to prosecute your case efficiently. We are equipped with the most advanced electronic legal research tools to simplify the investigation and discovery processes. We use sophisticated case management software to track deadlines, provide reminders, and document valuable case data. We also rely on email to communicate efficiently with you and other parties involved in your case. If you have access to email, we urge you to send your name and current email address to jenna@levinperconti.com. Corresponding via email will help move your case along because we can communicate, send documents, and schedule depositions more quickly.

Our attorneys understand that you want your case to be resolved as soon as possible, and we constantly strive to meet this goal. It is in our best interest to resolve your case without delay because we work on a contingency, not hourly, basis. We look for opportunities to resolve your case at every juncture. However, we will never settle your case until we have thoroughly researched the issues, carefully calculated the damages, and obtained just compensation for your injury or loss. Due to the nature of cases in litigation, you may not hear from us for periods of time, but that does not mean there is not activity on your case. Please feel free to call or email us at any time for updates.

The legal process is long and complex. Throughout this process, we constantly work to bring justice to you and hold all wrongdoers accountable. We are committed to achieving the best possible results for you in the shortest amount of time, while ensuring that justice is served and you are fairly compensated.

Please call or e-mail us anytime with questions.

Very truly yours,
LEVIN & PERCONTI
